

Support Farrah Hall's 2012 Olympic Campaign

Farrah Hall's path to London for the 2012 Olympics is long, lonely and demanding. Farrah is on a mission to be the USA RS:X women's competitor at the 2012 London Olympics.

Dedicated, smart, well-spoken, a tough and fair competitor, she is a worthy individual to represent her country and community. Farah has the talent, the drive and the commitment to achieve her dream, but like all American athletes, especially sailors, she lacks the financial support she needs to train and compete internationally over the next three years. You can help.

Won't You Join Us? We, the supporters of the Farrah Hall's campaign, invite you to join us to help Farrah pursue her dream. Become a member of this campaign and share this experience with her while she follows the road less traveled.

As a private donor, you will get behind-the-scenes access to Farrah and the campaign with regular email updates, and invitations to special events. You will have the satisfaction knowing that your support will make a big difference. With the generous assistance of Delta Olympic Sailing Association all private donations are fully tax deductible and 100 per cent of the amount will be directed to Farah's campaign.
